“ Ms. Barland was the ultimate Alpha Kappa Alpha woman. I met her during my time at a West Side charter school. She was savvy, and quick witted. She cared about children, and made me smile - no matter the circumstance.

I saw her two weeks before her passing. There she was, at Wal-Mart, shopping for another AKA event. Always the hard worker, I told her to let the committee help. But she, always on a deadline, was taking care of business.

I miss her already. She could carry on four conversations at one time, but make you feel like the center of attention and important. I will always carry her with me as I scurry to work hard, fast, with the mission in mind.

I miss you, Soror Alice Barland. I'll see you again. I'll be wearing pink and green also. And you, will be adorned in the latest, greatest AKA designer garb...with bling, of course. You'll be smiling and styling. Until then, you will always remain the ultimate servant of mankind.
