“ I remember Ms. Johnson being a servant always busy helping people. She reminded me of my mother growing up. Always a smile, joke that made me laugh and wisdom telling me to act like a young lady. Love God and serve him with all your heart. She was also loved my baby Candice. I wish I spent more time with you in your later years to serve you. Rest on Beautiful angel Ms. Johnson.

“ It seems unreal this day has arrived grandma even though Tamir Jr and I didn't make it to Oklahoma before God called you home. I am blessed to have had that last video message with you on February 15, 2024 when the Hospice nurse said it's your baby granddaughter you raised Jocelyn you cracked one eye open smiled and I said Hi grandma it's me you've fought 94yrs you are one tough cookie I love you and you nodded your head. I will miss your Feisty self I'm forever grateful to share the same birthday with you and to have had you 94yrs. Fly High I Love You.

Ms. Johnson I remember you for years the day I met up to meet my sister at church. It might have not been right how it happened but I must say I gained a special bond in meeting you as well as a sister. I will always be connected with you because after all someone that's related to you is also related to me. Take your sweet rest with the whom loved you best. Thank you for allowing me to be a part of you and Joselyn's life. 🌸☐☐

Jocelyn you and your family are in my prayers for the loss of your grandmother. I definitely remember her when she was active in the Busy Bee Club at church. Praying for your strength and encouragement during this time of your bereavement. Praying for your strength I'll be streaming it live on the Internet. Love you so much and take care

Heartbroken a hole that can never be filled lies within my heart for you granny. I cannot believe this has come to pass you have been so strong for so long and I know that God is finally letting you rest for raising all your kids to my mother and being a genuine source of compassion and realness to others you've encountered. I'm glad that you helped me develop the morals I carry to this very day shaping me to be the man you know I should be. I'm glad to had our last talk and see you remembered me by my voice and your eye lit up for the last time I'll never forget it. Rest now granny you've more than earned it ☐ 🙏 and I will cherish our time together and I love you- Love TJ, Your Jitterbug

Son you have brought tears to my eyes indeed grandma loved her Jitterbug buying your Easter Suits Easter Baskets School Uniforms Birthday/Christmas Gifts even though I had those areas covered she did not care she made sure every holiday you had double gifts along with wanting for nothing so you could focus on your education to be a strong black man in this world.

Jocelyn my mother in love Ms Maple remembers you & your Grandma so well. She said to tell you we're all praying your strength in the Lord. She recalled your grandma was one of her patients back in the day @ Cook County Hospital and they always spoke and met after church every Sunday she always waived and said Hello mama said she drove herself home she lived on 45th & Indiana I believe mama told you one Sunday how she watches her cross Princeton getting too her car you told her you was gonna make sure too becZ she wanted to keep driving. She had such a sweet spirit and was so faithful 🍷💕🙏🏾 Mama knew her well " to be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord"❤️Rest in Heaven Ms Lucille Johnson

To one of the finest women of the Fellowship Missionary Baptist Church! My greeting was always, hey there Sister Johnson, and I always got a big smile. When I would visit her, I would sing, hello Lucille how do you do, do you remember me baby, cause I remember you, and we would laugh out loud. I'll miss her arriving at church on Sunday turning that brown Buick heading to the parking lot. I'm grateful for her respect and love towards me and my family and will carry a piece of her in my heart. I'm most grateful because she entrusted me with a piece of her heart, Jocelyn. She made sure she kept me in the loop on what was going on and I'm grateful. I know your flight home was beautiful and I know you arrived right on time, so thank you for the memories we shared. Rest on in your new home.
