“ Sharon found out her husbands friend from the neighborhood had a little girl her kids' age and she literally went and got her. That little girl was me. She didn't know that she was what I needed right then. A product of a mixed marriage and partially estranged from the black side; Sharon taught me what it was to be a black woman (including how to fix my hair). And aside from that--because Sharon didn't see color--she taught me how to be a strong woman. I was witness to how she meticulously cared for her kids while working full-time. I saw her take in kids with various needs (including me whenever I wanted to stay). She even took me with on the family vacation and paid for it! The fun I had playing with her kids is as vivid as yesterday. (I was an 'only-child'). She was a powerful woman with a gentle spirit. Almighty God blessed me with her. Booney, Damond, Kia, Micah my heart is broken for your loss. But I know she left you with the tools to carry on. Love you always,
Heather

“ I met Sharon @ Carver middle school and shortly after I became her assistant in her class rooms 105 and 158 to which a true bond formed like no other, I learned so much about so many personalities and how to deal with each child on a different level. To go into that school everyday became a ball of fun because there was never a boring or dull moment when the 2 of us got together lol. To know that I'll never be able to get advice from her or just hear her voice is going to be very difficult. I love that woman so much and life as I knew it with her being a phone call away will be so hard to for me to accept. I'm going to say see you later but never goodbye, I love you Sharon Henderson ALWAYS!!!

“ I first met Mrs. Henderson in 1993, at that time she was my sister's 5th grade teacher. The following year she was my brother's teacher and two years later I became her student in 1998. Apparently my brother was always acting up in her class because my parents would always get notices sent home & be called up to the school. At one point she even told my parents that my brother needed to get a check because he was so bad and always cutting up! Lol... She was convinced that he had a problem! Lol All I could think about when I found out she was going to be my teacher was "she's going to want me to get a check too". Hahaha But that wasn't the case. I consider myself to be 1 of her favorites... 1 of many I'm sure. :-)
Mrs. Henderson had a heart of gold!! She always did for others, and when it came to her students, she went to battle for us. Even if we were in the wrong, she would go to bat for us (in public) ... But once we got behind closed doors, she def let us have it!! She was like a mother to many of her students. Always showing tough love.
Heaven has gained an angel.
